

Author's family on the holy ground of 'Square of Miracles', on 6th July 2011; the leaning tower of Pisa is seen behind.

15 years back author was left with frustrating feelings when repeated search on Sri Sri Thakur Anukul Chandra in the net struck nil hit. Today, if the screen on www beams a spectrum of literature on Sri Sri Thakur, (10,700 results in 0.24 seconds), it is largely due to the prolific writings of the author and the pioneering site www.srisrithakuranukulchandra.com, hosted in 1999 by Shri Dipangshu Maitra, an illustrious great-grandson of Sri Sri Thakur, working as software professional in USA. Around the same time, a chain of 'national conference on Swastyayani', was launched (10 annual sessions held during 1998 and 2010), under the leadership of Dr. Tapan K Jena, who currently adorns the post of Director, School of Health Sciences, IGNOU, New Delhi.

Research and publication on Sri Sri Thakur's ideology has possessed author, ever since he was initiated into the order of Sri Sri Thakur Anukul Chandra in 1974 by Ritwikdev Sushil Ranjan Das, an associate of Sri Sri Thakur.

A milestone in the history of Satsang was laid, when a team of devotees took pledge on 14th April 2009 in the hallowed precincts of Bibek Bitan, Deoghar to set up 'Institute of Indo-Aryan Studies'. It was perhaps destiny's call that the pledge was administered by the author to a hall packed devotees drawn from across the country.

Author, claims no credit; blessed to the extreme, craves a place under His feet, cites the glory of the Lord for whatever little has been realized by him during his life, spanning half a century.
